

A hand-drawn cadastral map of a land plot, likely in Russia, showing various divisions and labels. The map is oriented with a red dashed line at the top, possibly representing a road or boundary. The plot is divided into several sections, some of which are labeled with Roman numerals and numbers:

- Top Left: A section labeled V 253 and 253.
- Top Center: A section labeled VI 253 and 253^a.
- Top Right: A section labeled VII 256 and 256.
- Middle Right: A section labeled VIII 257 and 257.
- Bottom Right: A section labeled XI 255 and 255.
- Bottom Center: A section labeled XIX 254 and 254.
- Bottom Left: A section labeled XII 254 and 254.
- Far Left: A section labeled XIII 252 and 252.

There are also several small rectangular areas labeled ПЖ (likely "Постройка Жилая" - Residential Building) and ПС (likely "Постройка" - Building). A red circle with the number 10 is drawn on the left side of the plot. The map is drawn with blue lines for boundaries and red lines for the main plot outline. A red dashed line with arrows at the top and bottom right indicates a boundary or road. The number 119 is written near the top right corner, and 134 is written near the bottom left corner.
